

LINDBLAD EXPEDITIONS

FACTS SHEET

Who We Are:

Lindblad Expeditions is an expedition travel company providing voyages in the Galápagos, Antarctica, Baja California, Alaska, the Arctic, and beyond. Sven Lindblad has received international recognition, including the 2008 National Wildlife Federation's Corporate Achievement Award, 2007 Global Tourism Business Award, 2007 Seafood Champion Award, U.N. Programme Global 500 Award, and recognition from HRH, Grand Duke Henri of Luxembourg for his dedication to the conservation and environmental stewardship of the Galápagos archipelago. Sven Lindblad is currently a member of the Aspen Institute's Commission on Arctic Climate Change and a member of the National Geographic Council of Advisors. The company has also been named #1 Small-Ship Cruise Line (Travel + Leisure's World's Best Value Awards 2006); "The Best Ships in the World" and "The Best Itineraries" (Condé Nast Traveler: Truth in Travel Awards 2008 and 2006).

Where We Go:

Lindblad Expeditions currently owns and operates the National Geographic Explorer which sails around the globe with a focus on the polar regions; the National Geographic Endeavour and the National Geographic Islander, which are both based in the Galapagos archipelago; the National Geographic Sea Lion and the National Geographic Sea Bird, which travel from Alaska and the Pacific Northwest to Baja California.

How Long We Go For:

Lindblad Expeditions' voyages vary in length depending on the destination and the itinerary. Expeditions typically range in length from 5 to 28 days.

When We Leave:

Expeditions are offered year round.
